JUNIOR DANCE PROVED TO BE AN OVERWHELMING SUCCESS

First Great Event of University Social Year Enjoyed by All —Union Gayly Decorated—Orchestra and Supper Exceptionally Good

COMMITTEE'S EFFORTS CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

The anticipated event has occurred and another social season at McGill has made its debut. As the Junior Dance is the first major social event it is looked forward to with keen interest, especially by Juniors and Seniors.

Those who attended the 1914 Junior Dance at the Union last night had their anticipations amply repaid.

The Lounge and Reading Rooms were decorated with hundreds of College pennants. The ball-room which was done in red, had a distinct McGill air.

Naturally most of those present were College folks who always have much in common. The grave Seniors were there as old-timers to greet friends and make new ones.

The gay Juniors were much in evidence, of course, for it was their contribution to the year's festivities.

The Sophs certainly appeared quite at home and from their countenances showed that they were not bored. As a rule the Junior Dance is not popular with the Freshies, but those who were there last night enjoyed every number.

The programme which consisted of sixteen regular dances and three extras, was begun about nine o'clock and had not nearly finished when the "Daily" went to press at midnight.

The supper which was excellent in point of service, quality and arrangement, was served in the Dining and Grill Rooms. The caterin was done by Bronsdon's.

The function was graced by the presence of the following ladies who were the patronesses, viz: Meslimes Mowse, Adams, Walton, Chipman, Archibald, Howard, and Misses Hurlbut and Cameron.

To the committee of Juniors who presented to the University one of the best dances in its history, are due the thanks and appreciation of all. To their ingenuity, foresight and tact are due, in a large measure, the exceedingly good time which their guests had.

The following comprised the committee.

Misses Helen Taylor and Clovis Morgan; Messrs H. P. Stanley, C. B. Tinning; B. A. McFarlane; H. Scott; T. H. Lennie; H. D. Boyne; H. H. Scott.

Among those present were:—

The Misses, F. Birks, T. Wakefield, A. Waters, Morgan, Mendal, E. V. Henry, E. Oughtred, J. Robinson, Edith Jamieson, Phillips, Edna Morrison, B. Richard, A. M. Douglas, E. Savage, M. Macoun A. INTERESTING PAPERS AT HISTORICAL CLUB

Recent Events in North Africa Discussed

The Historical Club held their regular meeting in the Engineering Building last night. The attendance was not very good although as the season grows late it is difficult to obtain a large attendance. After some business had been transacted, the meeting proceeded to the papers of the evening. The subject was "North Africa" and was divided into three parts.

The first paper entitled "Africa before the 17th century" was delivered in an able and interesting manner by Mr. Findley. To facilitate matters, the reader divided his subject into five parts treating separately Morocco, Algiers, Tunis, Tripoli and Egypt. Mr. Findley dealt with each one separately from the time when the European nations began to take an interest in them.

Portugal was first interested in Morocco. She was called in to suppress civil strife, by the two brothers of the Pasha. About 1650 France was allowed special privileges an account of the friendship between the Pasha and Louis XIV.

At the beginning of the 16th century Turkey and Spain were striving for supremacy in the Mediterranean. Spain obtained the temporary possession of Algeria but was driven out by Turkey and finally abandoned her possessions there at the end of the 18th century.

In Egypt there is little to record in the nineteenth century besides the invasion of Bonaparte in 1792. The powers of Russia and Turkey and England combined to drive France out.

Mr. J. W. Jenkins was then called upon for his paper on the French in North Africa. The French are always poor colonists. Egypt was left chiefly to the control of France and England. The purchase by Lord Bea-

VISIT TO ANGUS SHOPS COMES OFF AT 2 P. M.

Science Men Will Meet at Strathcona Hall Prior to Making this Interesting Trip to the C. P. R. Works

This afternoon the trip to the Canadian Pacific Railway shops at Angus comes off. While the trip has been spoken of as being taken by the members of the Railway Club and Science '14, anybody who cares to come will be welcome. It has been decided to meet at Strathcona Hall at 2 p.m. sharp and then to go by car to the shops.

It has been decided, on account of the large number of men who have signified their intention of going to divide the party up in small groups with a leader, who will show his men through all the different shops in rotation. By this means everybody will be assured of getting a good idea of the shops.

Don't forget now, be sure and get to the Hall by 2 sharp and you will be taken on a trip of exceptional interest. This applies to any men, as above mentioned, who care to come.

consolid of the Suez Canal shares brought the British interest to the fore. The present occupation of Egypt by Great Britain was caused by a series of events. There was a rising in Egypt and the Kediv made himself master of the country. He then practically defied Turkey, France and Great Britain both protested and sent warships. Gambetta, the great French statesman, wished to combined with the British but his party was defeated and then the British acted alone. The bombardment of Alexandria and the battle of Tel-el-Kebir followed and Britain became master of Egypt. The loss of Egypt quickened the French activity.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

The Twelfth Parliament of Canada was opened Wednesday with all its accustomed pomp and splendour. A large gathering from all over Canada had emigrated to witness the event. The galleries in the house were crowded and few vacancies were seen amongst the members.

The Governor General in his speech from the throne, commented upon the general prosperity of the country which is observable all over our broad dominion.

As in all speeches from the Throne there is no definite statement as to any fixed policy in the past of the government. The speech is really nothing more than the formal opening ceremony in connection with Parliament. Active business will in all probability not be proceeded with until Monday.

It is the first time that Canadians have felt called upon to share in the defence of the nation. As a people we have grown tremendously, we are prosperous, we are wealthy, and have large undeveloped resources and indeed we have come to regard ourselves as a nation.

The time has come when we can no longer sit idly by and enjoy with any degree of self-respect the advantages and privileges which we have done nothing to obtain. A conference was held in London last summer with reference to a Canadian share in Imperial defence. Referring to that conference His Royal Highness said "Important discussions took place and conditions have been disclosed which in the opinion of my advisers render it imperative that effective naval forces of the Empire should be strengthened without delay. My advisers are convinced that it is the duty of Canada at this juncture to afford reasonable and necessary aid for that purpose."

There is no doubt, we think, that something will be done by Canada. The great interest, of course, centres in what form that something shall take. It is expected that Mr. Borden will propose a cash contribution to the funds of the British Navy. If Canada takes such a step and the other powers, who today are competing so strenuously for the supremacy on the high seas, will realize that the British Empire is one and undivided and that to overcome Great Britain is to overcome not England alone but all her colonies as well. We believe that with the powers of the world in their present relation to one another the only peace possible is an armed peace and that the power of the greatest strength is not a menace but a protection to the rest of the world.

THE C. O. T. C.

There still seems to be a considerable amount of understanding and doubt as to the aims and requirements of the C.O.T.C. To many the C.O.T.C. and the Military course seem to be one and same thing. This, however, is entirely wrong as they are entirely separate.

The C.O.T.C. was started this year and has already got a large membership. Drills are held every Wednesday afternoon from 5 to 6. This is the only time that is required for the O.T.C. There are absolutely no other lectures to be attended. After most of the elementary drill has been mastered, part of the hour on Wednesday will be devoted to lectures, on such subjects as the duties of officers, elementary tactics, elementary map reading, regimental duties, etc. At present, however, drills will take place.

The requirements of a recruit before being efficient are briefly to attend twenty-five regular drills and to take the course of musketry which will be provided.

This year there will not be any shooting on the Point aux Trembles ranges this year as the season is too far advanced. Arrangements will be made however for indoor shooting. This same facilities as to marking and transportation will be granted as are now extended to the Rifle Club. Each member will be given 100 rounds of 303 service ammunition for the full sized range and also 50 rounds of miniature range ammunition.

If a recruit wishes he can also try for one of the certificates. Certificate "A" is obtained by being efficient in drill and shooting and by passing a written oral and practical examination on the drills and on the subject of a few lectures that will be given. The possession of "A" certificate entitles one to a commission in the Militia as a Lieutenant. "B" certificate is harder to obtain and entitles one to a Captaincy.

The Military Course is altogether separate. It is what one might call the "honours course" in military subjects. Anyone who wishes may take it. It consists of six subjects and lectures are given by army men. Any one taking the Military Course and passing the exams can obtain a commission in the Canadian Permanent Force or the Imperial Army. One point that should be remembered that the taking of these courses does not in any way bind one to serve. There is absolutely no "legal liability."

CAR INTERCHANGE AND INSPECTION DISCUSSED

Members of Railway Club Entertained to Pleasing and Instructive Address

The McGill Railway Club held a very successful meeting in Room 35, Engineering Building on Wednesday evening, when the members gathered to hear an address delivered by Mr. Ord, Chief Car Inspector, C. P. R. J. S. Hall, president of the Club, was in the chair, but before introducing the speaker, he made reference to the recent successful harbor trip, and in this connection the members were unanimous in passing a vote of thanks to Major G. W. Stephens and members of the Harbor Board for the hospitality shown the members of the Club on this occasion.

Mr. Ord then delivered his address on Car Inspection and its features relative to safety in train operation. The speaker laid great stress on the cause of ordinary defects commonly found in car wheels and the only feasible remedies for such.

The subject of Car Interchange was also discussed and in this connection Mr. Ord briefly traced the history of the freight car from the time it left some point on the home road until it reached its destination over some foreign line. The question of repairs to the car while in transit must, he said, be followed along certain well defined specifications laid down by the Master Car Builders' Association. This method tended to lead to a standardization of car appliances.

The mechanical aspects of the subjects offered were numerous and in this connection Mr. Ord explained some of the most difficult points by use of diagrams and figures.

The fact that the speaker excited the interest of all his hearers proved to the members that they were listening to a man well versed in his subject.

After a slight discussion on the subject took place, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Ord and the meeting then adjourned.

BOXING AND WRESTLING CLUB.

Owing to a misunderstanding about the hour the Club was unable to use the floor yesterday afternoon.

A new schedule has been arranged and the class will meet on Monday at 7.17 p.m. and on Friday at 5.30 p.m. from now on.

There will be a practice this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It is necessary that every one interested get down to work from now on, as the championship meet is not far off.

AT HIS MAJESTY'S TO-NIGHT

"La Vivandiere," in all its light and delicate quality, will be heard for the first time in Montreal this evening, presented by the Montreal Opera Company at His Majesty's Theatre. Twice during next week the opera will be repeated. The opera deals with the revolutionary days in France, about 1794.

For the portrayal of Marion, La Vivandiere, Mrs. Clark-Jannotee, has chosen Mme. Course, who will present to the Montreal public, Godard's heroine, a woman of La Vendee, the idol of the republican insurgents, who rules them with an iron hand. The entire opera deals with her ministrations among the soldiers. There are many military scenes, and wealth of stirring music. Particularly stirring is "Hymn a la Patrie," a thrilling patriotic hymn, which the large chorus renders with great spirit.

A prominent part in the production is taken by Vivandiere's donkey, Grisonnet, who makes several appearances on the stage dragging the wine-sellers' cart. The entrance of Mme. Marion and her faithful comrade, as she calls the ass, in the first act is followed by the appearance of George de Risul, the son of a Royalist father whom she induces to join the Republican ranks. This part is taken by Roland Conrad, who has appeared in the role of Julien in Louise and Faust in the opera of the same name. There is a pretty love story running through the opera. La Choeul, the Canadian singer, has been cast for Jeanne, the other important female role. The Royalist father who disowns his son, upon his joining the Republican forces, Marquis de Rieul is taken by Natale Cervi.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Don't forget the big double header polo match with the M.A.A.A. on Monday 8 p.m. at Y.M.C.A. tank on Drummond street.

The following men are requested to be on hand at the Gym at 2.30 Saturday 23rd for a game with the Y.M.C.A. Baldwin, Smith, McTavish, Kenney, Conover, Popham and Dunfield.

There will be a full rehearsal of the orchestra on Sunday morning, November 24th, in the McGill Union, at 10.30 a.m. to practice sacred music for the coming concert. Everybody please be on hand. Bring a music stand.

QUEEN'S HOCKEY PROSPECTS.

Queen's is 'laying very low' in the hockey line. It is working, however, and making a good effort to work up a championship hockey team this winter. One of the drawbacks felt by the management is the lack of rink accommodation. It is felt that one great need of the university team is a larger sheet of ice, in order to increase its speed.

Manager McGuigan has been endeavoring to arrange a series of games at New York, Boston, New Haven and Syracuse, with the teams of those places. He has not heard from any of these except the manager of St. Nicholas' rink, New York, who says he believes there can be no game arranged at the time asked for with New York team, but advises Queen's to arrange for an exhibition game with McGill or Ottawa for that date. He states that he will know definitely after Tuesday night, November 19th, when the American Amateur Athletic Union meets. The games are to be played between Christmas and New Year's.

Queen's men are holding gymnasium practice now and getting hardened up for the hockey season. The training table will be done away with at the college this year. It is felt that the benefit does not warrant the expense. It is said that one has to trust the players anyway not to overstep bounds, and they may as well be trusted altogether.
